These investment options are available through SignatureSuper and have a crediting rate instead of a unit price.

A crediting rate is the rate of interest applied to the amount you have invested in that option. The rate can change at any time. For transition to retirement accounts, please refer to the crediting rates published for the SignatureSuper product.

Super Cash

The crediting rate is accrued daily and credited annually to your account or when you withdraw from the investment option, including pension payments.

Term Deposits

The crediting rate applied is the applicable rate on the day the term deposit was established in your account. It accrues daily and is paid on maturity.
