

Changes to buy/sell spreads

3 November 2025

Introducing buy/sell spreads

We are making some changes to the buy/sell spreads for the SouthPeak Alternative Alpha Fund ('the Fund'), as listed in the table on the following page, that will be implemented with effect from 3 November 2025.

Full details of the changes can be found in the Fund's PDS. As always, we recommend you read this document to understand the main benefits and risks of investing, along with other features of the Fund. Indirect investors should also consider the Target Market Determination (TMD) for the Fund before making an investment decision to consider whether the Fund is appropriate for them. The TMD in respect of the fund is available at amp.com.au/investments-tmd.

What are buy and sell spreads?

Buy and sell spreads are a transaction cost incurred by investors who enter or exit a managed fund. These spreads ensure that all unitholders are treated fairly and transaction costs are paid by those investors who transact, rather than by all the other unitholders in a fund. The buy and sell spread is retained by a fund to cover the transaction costs associated with a fund buying or selling assets. Buy and sell spreads are not a fee paid to the investment manager.

The buy spread is the difference between a fund's net asset value (NAV) unit price and entry price. The sell spread is the difference between the fund's NAV unit price and exit price.

What are the changes and what has caused the changes?

The changes to the buy/sell spreads are set out in the table on the following page.

We regularly review the transaction cost factors (buy/sell spreads) for all funds. As a result, the buy/sell spreads for the Fund listed below will change.

We will continue to monitor these spreads on an ongoing basis to ensure these costs accurately reflect the costs of the underlying transactions.
