

Information about your 2021 policy bonuses AMP Life (former-NMLA) Whole of Life and Endowment policies

Annual and End bonus rates effective from 1 April 2021

As part of your Whole of Life or Endowment policy, you are entitled to receive profits earned on the value of the assets in the portfolio in the form of a bonus.

There are two types of bonus available:

- 1. Annual bonus; and
- 2. End bonus.

The Annual bonus rates effective from 1 April 2021 will remain unchanged from the rates declared last year.

The End bonus rates paid on claim and on policy maturity effective from 1 April 2021 will remain unchanged from the 2020 rates. We have also reviewed the amount of End bonus included in Withdrawal benefits and, for both Ordinary (nonsuper) and Super policies, we are increasing these bonus rates from 1 April.

Your Annual Statement will show the impact of this bonus declaration on your policy. For a further explanation of the rate changes, see 'Setting bonus rates for 2021'.

Note: The bonus rates declared may impact any recent estimates you may have received on your maturity benefit.

Setting bonus rates for 2021

The investment performance of the assets supporting your policy is an important factor in the levels of bonuses that can be declared. As market values fluctuate over time, we analyse investment performance since the last bonus declaration and update bonus rates to reflect the impacts of changes to investment markets and expected future earnings rates.

Bonus rates are reviewed throughout the year, although changes normally occur on 1 April each year.

While equity (share) markets fell sharply in early 2020 driven by concerns around the spread of the COVID-19 coronavirus, they rebounded strongly as the year progressed. The resulting small positive equity returns were largely offset by weak property and infrastructure returns over 2020.

We aim to set End bonus rates that distribute the portfolio's investment returns fairly to our policyholders over the lifetimes of their policies. From 1 April 2021, we are keeping End bonus rates paid on claim and maturity at the same levels as last year.

We have also reviewed the amount of End bonus included in the Withdrawal benefits paid if policyholders choose to not continue their policy. From 1 April, the End bonus rates included in the Withdrawal benefits for Ordinary (non-super) and Super policies will increase relative to 2020. The increase will depend on the policy type. The Withdrawal benefit for your policy is shown on your Annual Statement.

Long-term bond yields influence our expectations for future investment returns and impact the amounts we need to set aside to ensure we can meet our contractual obligations to our policyholders. These obligations include paying guaranteed benefits (sum insureds and any previously accrued Annual bonuses) on claim and on policy maturity.

While long-term government bond yields continued their downward trends during 2020, these falls were generally reversed by early 2021.

We aim to set Annual bonus rates that are supportable and fair to our policyholders over the lifetimes of their policies and, from 1 April 2021, we are keeping these rates unchanged.

The bonuses for your policy are shown on your Annual Statement.

Annual bonuses

Like interest on a bank account, Annual bonuses accumulate and compound over time.

Annual bonuses are accrued on your policy on the anniversary of your policy commencement date. Once accrued, Annual bonuses are guaranteed and are payable in full when your base sum insured becomes fully payable (e.g. on claim or on policy maturity).

Note: Annual bonuses that are yet to accrue are not guaranteed.

On your Annual Statement your Annual bonuses are expressed in two parts:

- 1. The existing accrued Annual bonuses that your policy earned until your last Annual Statement, and
- 2. The new Annual bonus earned in the current policy year, up until the Annual Statement date.

End bonuses

An End bonus is paid upon claim or on maturity of your policy.

If you do not wish to continue your policy, a partial End bonus may be included in the Withdrawal benefit paid to you.

Your End bonus is calculated as a percentage of your sum insured and Annual bonuses already accrued — it is also based on the number of years your policy has been active.

Important: Unlike Annual bonuses, End bonuses are not guaranteed.

End bonuses reflect past investment returns that have not yet been guaranteed within your policy. They are used to pass on investment returns to you, usually from more volatile assets such as equities. As they have a greater recognition of current investment returns and market values, End bonus rates are normally more volatile than Annual bonuses.

The End bonus on your Annual Statement represents the End bonus that you would receive if a maturity benefit was paid on the Annual Statement date.

Note: Your End bonus can increase or decrease over time for various reasons (e.g. actual investment returns being different than expected).

Any change you make to your policy terms (e.g. ceasing premium payments) may also affect the amounts of both your Annual and End bonuses.

Withdrawal benefit

If you do not wish to continue with your policy, you will normally be entitled to take a proportion of your full benefit. The amount payable is called the 'Withdrawal benefit'.

As with your claim and maturity values, the Annual bonus declared each year will usually increase your Withdrawal benefit. Your Withdrawal benefit will also generally increase or decrease as End bonus rates change. An increase in End bonus rates will typically increase your Withdrawal benefit and vice versa — a decrease in End bonus rates will typically reduce your Withdrawal benefit.

If bonus rates remain unchanged and premiums are paid on time as scheduled, your Withdrawal benefit will typically increase as your policy ages.

Important: The full value of your sum insured and bonuses are only payable in full when the sum insured becomes payable, usually on claim or maturity. Therefore, the Withdrawal benefit of a policy will generally be less than the amount you would receive upon claim or when the policy matures.

Does your policy still match your needs?

Your policy is a valuable financial asset for your future. Your objectives or needs may have changed since your policy began and if so, you may want to review your policy to cater for these changes.

Options are available to help keep your policy in line with your changing needs for example, you can:

- increase your level of cover to help protect your policy value against the effects of inflation

- cash part of your Annual bonuses from your policy, but maintain an additional insurance cover
- convert to an endowment policy (in certain cases), or
- alter your premiums or your policy term (within certain restrictions).
