- who we are and how we can be contacted
- the financial products and services we can offer

Other documents you may receive

Before you are issued with one of our products you will receive a product disclosure statement (PDS), an investor directed portfolio service (IDPS) guide, terms & conditions or a similar type of document in most cases (disclosure document). These documents contain information about the particular product to help you make an informed decision about that product.

These documents will include information about matters such as:

- the terms and conditions of the product
- any associated costs, fees and charges that the product issuer may receive or pay, and
- any significant benefits and risks.

Personal financial product advice is advice that takes into account one or more of your financial objectives, financial situation and needs. The SoA will contain the advice, the basis on which the advice is given and information about fees, commissions and any associations which may have influenced the advice.

How you do business with us

The disclosure document for each product outlines its administration procedures and processes. Please refer to the relevant disclosure document for how a product is administered.

How you can give us instructions

You can give us instructions by telephone, mail, email, fax or online.

Some products may have their own rules about how to provide instructions or carry out certain transactions – these are explained in the relevant disclosure document or applicable form.

How your investments are held by NMMT through IDPSs or registered schemes

Where assets are held through an IDPS or registered scheme operated by NMMT, NMMT has appointed a sub-custodian to hold shares, interests in managed investment schemes and fixed term products. The sub-custodian will hold the legal title to those assets on trust for NMMT, and NMMT in turn holds the beneficial interest in those assets ultimately for you. Other assets held through an IDPS or registered scheme are held in the name of NMMT (in its capacity as custodian or responsible entity), in which case NMMT is the legal owner of the assets and holds them for your ultimate benefit.

NMMT and the sub-custodian it appoints may use omnibus accounts to hold assets (that is, accounts in which assets ultimately held for your benefit are pooled together with assets that are referable to other investors). Records are maintained by NMMT to enable the quantity of assets held in the omnibus account that are referable to your interest to be clearly identified.

When you apply to invest in an IDPS or registered scheme operated by NMMT, you consent to the use of omnibus accounts by NMMT, and any sub-custodian appointed by NMMT.

How we're paid for the services we provide

If you buy or invest in one of the products we issue, AMP will receive remuneration including fees and charges in relation to your investment/purchase of that product.

Fees and charges generally include ongoing investment and administration fees, also referred to as investment management or management fees, and indirect costs, which may include performance based fees. In some situations, contribution, switching, exit and withdrawal fees may also apply.

Other fees and costs including insurances fees (premiums), advice fees for personal advice, transactional and operational costs, and borrowing costs, may also apply, some or all of which may be paid to AMP or related parties. In particular, AMP Life will receive the insurance premiums paid for any insurance cover or annuity you obtain from us.

The fees and costs you pay, and any benefits we receive for each product we offer, are set out in the relevant disclosure document.

We don't charge you any additional fees for any general financial advice you may receive from us. However, your financial adviser may charge you fees for providing financial product advice. These will be set out in the separate FSG and/or SoA you will receive from your financial adviser.

For services in relation to insurance, banking, deposit products, some loan products and older products, commission may be payable by the AMP product issuer in relation to your AMP product.

Commissions, fees or other benefits we receive or are paid

Employees and Authorised Representatives of the AMP group may be entitled to receive a range of benefits including potential discounts on products and services as a result of their relationship with AMP.

Related companies and transactions

If AMP provides general advice on a product issued by another company in the AMP group and that product is issued by such other company, the product issuer may benefit from the general advice provided by AMP by receiving the fees they charge on that product. The amount and calculation of those fees are shown in the relevant disclosure document. If you have a financial adviser, your financial adviser and their authorising licensee may also benefit if an AMP product is issued to you, or an AMP product you hold is varied, as a result of that general advice. You can request details of this remuneration from us before you apply for your AMP product - see the contact us section for details.

Companies in the AMP group may provide services, and obtain fees and charges or other benefits from the product issuer or service provider if you obtain a product or service from a company in the AMP group. These relationships, where applicable to the entities this FSG covers, will be detailed in the relevant disclosure document (and any FSG and/or SoA that an adviser is required to give you).

Where we enter into transactions with related parties, we operate in accordance with the related party protocols and AMP policies and procedures which require us to transact on terms that would be reasonable if the parties were dealing at arm's length.

Employees, directors and representatives

Employees, directors and representatives receive salaries, incentive bonuses and other benefits from us. The amount of bonuses and other benefits (which may include commissions) which employees, directors and representatives may be entitled to will depend on various factors, such as: the performance of that person during the year, and in some cases the particular products, features and level of sales attributable to that person during the year, as well as our overall financial and strategic (eg customer advocacy) performance. Non-executive directors receive fees (and superannuation) for their services.

Staff who may assist you on the telephone

Some employees who are representatives of AMP Life may also receive remuneration in the form of a bonus for the services they provide, such as general advice and assistance when you acquire or increase your investment in an AMP superannuation, life insurance or managed investment product offering. Any such benefits are based on a balanced scorecard of performance including both financial and non-financial measures that remain at the overall discretion of the business.

AMP Bank

AMP Bank employees, agents and other representatives¹ may also receive remuneration from AMP Bank in the form of commission payments. The specific payment of commissions is calculated as a percentage of the balance held in the deposit product.

Financial advisers

You may receive advice about our products from financial advisers who may work for another licensee or authorised representative in the AMP group. These advisers may receive remuneration from us if you purchase or acquire our product. Fees, commission payments and other benefits may be calculated as a percentage of your financial interest in a product or on the total amount of business advised.

You may agree with your financial adviser what advice fees will be paid for financial planning services they provide. These advice fees are additional to the fees set out in this FSG and are paid directly to your financial adviser and/or their licensee, not to us. You and your financial adviser determine the amount of any advice fees and how they will be charged.

Advice may be paid for via commissions or agreed advice fees. Your adviser is required to set out the fees, commissions and any other benefits they receive in the FSG and/or SoA that they must give you.

Your adviser may also receive payments and/or other benefits from the advice licensee or the organisation under which they operate.

Referrers

We may pay annual or up-front referral payments and other benefits to third parties (other than your financial adviser) for referring customers to us. This is not a direct cost payable by you. Referral payments and other benefits are usually calculated as a percentage of your financial interest in a product or on the total amount of business referred to us by the third party.

Further information

You can ask us for more details about the above payments or benefits if you ask for them within a reasonable time after receiving this guide but before the service is provided.

¹ Representative means any person authorised to arrange for you to receive an AMP Bank deposit product.
